

March 2025

We are pleased to extend an invitation to your organization to be a sponsor for the 2025 National Organization for Student Success: Ohio Chapter (NOSS: OH) Conference, “Beyond Compliance: Creating a Culture of Access and Inclusion.” This hybrid conference will be held virtually Monday, November 3 – Thursday, November 6, and in-person at the University of Findlay on Friday, November 7, 2025.

The 2025 annual conference of the National Organization of Student Success: Ohio Chapter (NOSS: OH) will explore strategies that move beyond compliance and promote a culture of access and completion for all students. We anticipate 150 or more faculty, administrators, and support staff from across the state (and potentially beyond!) to participate virtually and/or in person. Our hybrid 2024 conference had 112 attendees from a dozen states!

The virtual portion of the conference, hosted via Zoom, will kick off on Monday, November 3, with an opening keynote address by Lillian Nave, Faculty and Educational Development Specialist at Appalachian State University’s Hickory campus. Lillian, a former art historian, now teaches First-Year Seminar courses focused on Intercultural Competence and connects her students with peers around the globe. As the creator and host of the Think UDL podcast, which has surpassed 100,000 downloads worldwide, she shares practical strategies for creating equitable and engaging learning environments.

Her keynote, UDL Interventions for Faculty, Staff, and Administrators to Support Student Success, will explore a range of practical strategies aligned with Universal Design for Learning (UDL) principles. Lillian will focus on institution-level interventions that promote equitable educational environments, staff-driven initiatives that foster inclusive campus culture, instructor-centered approaches to help faculty enhance their teaching practices, and student-focused strategies to support persistence and success. This session will offer actionable steps for faculty, staff, and administrators to create more accessible and inclusive learning experiences for all students.

The in-person portion of the conference on Friday, November 7, at the University of Findlay, will include breakfast, a keynote address/workshop, concurrent sessions featuring multiple presentations, lunch, and the awarding of three student scholarships.
